

MAKING CONNECTIONS: Optimizing Health for all

February 14-16, 2018

*The Westin Peachtree Plaza
Atlanta, GA*

Agenda: Friday, February 16, 2018

7:00am - 1:00pm	Registration and Information Desk	Augusta Conference Center Foyer, 7th Floor
7:30am - 8:00am	Breakfast	Augusta Conference Center Foyer, 7th Floor
7:30am - 1:30pm	Exhibits Open	Augusta Conference Center Foyer, 7th Floor
7:45am - 8:00am	Opening Eve Gardner, MBA, Communities Joined in Action Secretary, Director of Vulnerable Populations, Healthy York	Augusta Conference Center 3-5, 7th Floor
8:00am - 9:15am	Housing as a Platform for Health Quality affordable housing is critical to health and well-being. As a result, community interest in strategies to intentionally ensure access to, and systematically characterize benefits of healthy housing is increasing rapidly. This panel discussion is designed to provide attendees a better understanding of the link between housing and well-being. Panelists will also discuss opportunities for stakeholders from both public and private sectors to more intentionally advance population health considerations in affordable housing decisions at the state and local level.	Augusta Conference Center 3-5, 7th Floor
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Leigh Alderman, JD, MPH, Senior Advisor, Georgia Health Policy (moderator) ● Philip Gilman, MPA, Director of the Office of Housing Finance at the Georgia Department of Community Affairs ● Paul Robinson, MSPFP, MDiv, Project Manager, The Vantage Development ● Von Nguyen, MD, MPH, Acting Associate Director for Policy, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) ● Zsa Zsa Heard, Chief Executive Officer, ABD, MS, LPC LaGrange Housing Authority
9:15am - 9:25am	Transition to Breakouts
9:25am-10:25am	Breakout Track V (see breakout listing for details)	Ansley Rooms, 14th Floor

#CJAconf2018

10:35am - 11:35am

Health Care Transformation and the Social Determinants of Health: Emerging Lessons in Strategic Engagement and Community Investment

Augusta Conference Center 3-5, 7th Floor

This plenary panel will engage two nationally-recognized leaders in a discussion of current trends and emerging lessons in the intersection of health care transformation and innovations in community development investment. Dr. Erickson will kick us off with a brief review of policy dynamics at the national level, emerging challenges and opportunities in the community development arena, the role of the Fed in advancing practices, and emerging lessons. Dr. Rahmer will share experiences in the strategic engagement of diverse community stakeholders and the emergence of a more comprehensive approach to improving health and well-being by a leading edge health system. He'll give attention to practices that optimize meaningful engagement and mobilization of community assets, and how the strategic deployment of hospital and health system resources can accelerate and scale investments in the community development arena. We'll reserve time after the panel presentations for dialogue and the sharing of innovations by participants.

- David Erickson, PhD, Director, Community Development, Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco
- Brian Rahmer, PhD, MS, Director of Community Engagement, Office of Health Equity, Christiana Care Health System
- Kevin Barnett, DrPH, MCP, Senior Investigator, Public Health Institute (moderator)

11:45am - 1:00pm

Luncheon:

A Conversation with Andrew Young

Augusta Conference Center 3-5, 7th Floor

Join us for a conversation with civil rights leader, Congressman, Ambassador, Mayor, and humanitarian Andrew Young as he shares lessons from his inspiring life that can be used to inform our journey to health equity. He will share motivational moments to encourage participants to continue seeking positive outcomes. Be inspired and challenged to advance issues impacting communities across the country.

- Karen Minyard, PhD, Director, Georgia Health Policy Center (moderator)

Closing

Quentin J. Moore, MPH, Communities Joined in Action, Chair Elect, Director of Research and Evaluation, Beaumont Health